This publication provides general information about school tax credits for individuals. For complete details, refer to the Arizona Revised Statutes. In case of inconsistency or omission in this publication, the language of the Arizona Revised Statutes will prevail.

What school tax credits are available to individuals?

There are five different school tax credits that an individual may be eligible to claim.

An individual may claim a credit for making contributions or paying fees to a public school for support of qualified activities or qualified programs.

An individual may also claim two separate credits for making donations to a qualified school tuition organization for scholarships to private schools.

Additionally, an individual who is a shareholder of an S corporation may claim two separate credits for contributions made by the S corporation to a qualified school tuition organization when the S corporation qualifies for a corporate credit and makes an election to pass that credit through to its individual shareholders.

Who may claim the individual school tax credits?

The individual school tax credits are available only to individuals.

The individual school tax credits are not available to trusts, estates, regular corporations, or S corporations. Additionally, partnerships and S corporations cannot pass the individual credits through to its partners or shareholders. However, an S corporation that is eligible for the corporate school tuition tax credits may elect to pass those corporate credits through to its individual shareholders.

What forms should an individual use to claim these credits?

An individual that makes contributions or pays fees to a public school for support of qualified activities or qualified programs uses Arizona Form 322 to claim this credit.

An individual that makes a contribution to a qualifying school tuition organization uses Arizona Form 323 and Arizona Form 348 (if the higher level of donation is made) to claim these credits.

An individual shareholder of an S corporation uses Form 335-I and/or 341-I to claim the private school tuition tax credit(s), which an S corporation passed through to its individual shareholders.

Can a taxpayer receive a refund of these credits? No. The credits may only be used to the extent they reduce a tax liability to zero. Any unused amounts may be carried forward for not more than five consecutive taxable years.

Can a taxpayer claim all five credits in the same taxable year?

Yes.

On the Arizona state income tax return, can a taxpayer claim both an itemized deduction and a tax credit for a contribution made to either a public school or a school tuition organization?

No. Any amount claimed as a tax credit cannot be taken as an itemized deduction. However, you may still claim any excess over the amount claimed as a credit as an itemized deduction as long as the contribution did not benefit your dependent.

Must a taxpayer have a child in school in order to claim any of these credits?

No.

Is a charter school considered to be a public school or a private school?

A charter school is defined in A.R.S. § 15-101 as a public school. Therefore, contributions made or fees paid for support of qualified activities or qualified programs to a charter school are eligible for the credit on Arizona Form 322.

Extracurricular activities do not include any senior trips or events that are recreational, amusement or tourist activities. Generally, any optional, noncredit, educational or recreational activities that supplement the education program of the school are considered to be extracurricular activities. A.R.S. § 15-342(24) requires each district school board to determine which activities are extracurricular and what fees will be levied. Fees must not exceed the actual costs of the activity. Fees for the use of scientific or other equipment must be optional and not part of a course taken for credit.

What is a character education program?

A character education program is a program defined in A.R.S. § 15-719. Under this statute each district may develop its own course of study for each grade. At a minimum, the character education program must include:

Do I qualify for the credit if I make a contribution or pay fees to an organization (e.g., PTA, school foundation, or school club) which then gives the funds in a lump sum to the school or directly pays for qualified activities or qualified programs?

No. A.R.S. § 43-1089.01 requires that the contributions be made and that fees be paid “to a public school.” Therefore, the payment must be made directly to the public school or district only.

Qualified schools must also require all teaching staff and personnel that have unsupervised contact with the students to be fingerprinted.

Are there situations where a contribution to a school tuition organization would not qualify for the tax credits?

Yes. Your donation to the school tuition organization will not qualify for the credits if you designate the donation for the direct benefit of your dependent.
